Project Description

The project is aimed to strengthen the role of women and youth in decision-making to ensure responsive, inclusive and participatory decision-making at all levels in Kazakhstan.

Specific objectives: 1) to increase participation of women and youth in decision-making; 2) to improve digital literacy rate to foster effective involvement in decision-making.

We will facilitate equitable and collaborative partnerships between the target groups and local authorities. This will amplify community voices in local and national-level dialogue and decision-making processes to make the government more responsive to the needs of its diverse citizenry.

Target groups: 1) women and girls; 2) youth

Expected results:

- Civic Tech Toolkit developed
- 100,000 people increased awareness of civic tech tools and available resources
- 270 women and youth improved skills in addressing community needs with the help of civic tech tools
- 60 people improved their digital skills and became subject-matter experts
- 25 CSOs and initiative groups improved their civic tech knowledge and skills
- 10 government officials improved performance in addressing social issues
- 10 civic tech projects strengthened through financial support to third parties
